Exhibition at the Nature Park House (10 June - 12 October 2024)

The stars of this fascinating exhibition are the four species of grouse found in the Ötztal: the ptarmigan, black grouse, hazel grouse and capercaillie. Their lifestyles in sometimes extreme habitats are presented in an informative, demonstrative and playful way. Suitable for young and old, for mountain experts and mountain newbies. If you don't know what stomach stones and umbrella species are, or where the name grouse comes from, this exhibition provides answers for you. Mountain life at the limit with ptarmigan and co.

The exhibition is being shown as part of this year's nature park annual focus "Sustainability - Biodiversity" and draws attention to all endangered animal and plant species in the Ötztal.
